Sir Henry Warns Britishers to Prepare for Biggest Scrap of All.

BY FLOYD MACGRIFF. (International News Service Staff Gor-respondent.) LONDON, June 1.—The war cat is LONDON, June 1.—The war cat is out of the bag again.

"We were told that the war was to end war, but it was not; it did not and it could not."

Addressing the officers of the various British army services at the Union Jack club. Fleid Marshal Wifson said:

"I hope you men, to whatever branch of the service you belong, will do all you can to keep fit and ready for the time that is coming. Except in August, 1914, our country and our empire have never wanted you more. We are living in ticklish and dangerous times, and our command on sen, on land and in the air is being challenged in various parts of the world." I hope you will carry this—warning the air is being challenged in various parts of the world.

"I hope you will carry this—warning if you like—away with you from a very old soldier, who knows what he is talking about."

Sir Hebry's statement, cool and calculated, has aroused considerable debate. The Westminster Gazette halls it as a highly courageous declaration of truth which many British politicians have sought to hide. A member of parliament who sought further enlightenment on the question, being particularly concerned as to what power Britain would fight next—Russia or the United States—got no satisfaction.

Members of the city and county boards of equalization took a holiday Saturday, meither board holding sessions. Neither the county realty assessment books nor the city personalty books were open for inspection.

Members of the city board of equalization have not determined as yet the length of time that will be granted the public to inspect the personalty assessment. But ample apportunity will be given for filing protests.

The most perplexing problem confronting be city board is the plan whileh it, must adopt in order to inspect the city's revenue. Members of the spanner of the same and have given the same and the plan whileh it must adopt in order to inspect the same and the same and the board and Mayor Paine have agree that many of the assessments are en-tirely too low and the assessment as that many of the assessments are charged to low and the assessment as a whole has been characterized as "ridiculously low" by the mayor Further conferences between the board and the city's executive will doubtless be held during the next week at which time some plan of action will be formulated.
